So did ya make it on the cheerleading team? you probably didn't have the gutts huh. I would of voted for ya maybe. I can't wait to were seniors. maybe we'll party more, to make up for this redneck year. this Summer going to be great thats if your a part of it. I'll probally have a couple party's and If you do you better give me a call 878-4520 Love,
Chuter

Cindy,
have an excellent
Summer (if it comes)
It was great having you in history and I was sorry you couldn't join on prom. Try to stay out of trouble (I know it's hard - I have problems to)
See ya at Eagle Lake

Cindy,
She's really glad I finally got you in a class with 7th grade. Don't let it worry you, this summer, okay? We won't get alot of classes together next year, this gonna raise some hell--!

Potlatch is races, slaves, contests, union of classes

Ready, set, go . . .
Traditional Potlatch, usually held in the spring, was successful in October this year to get people to know each other.

A shoe race, a balloon toss, a messy pudding-eating contest, the unforgettable bonfire, costumes, slaves-dozens of activities. Charlie Marquard tried to shrink his size for the tricycle race, but failed and broke his "trike".

And finally — the assembly — out of class for an hour of fun and games: izzy-dizzy (literally), the ice cream drop, the sleeping bag drag, the three-legged race. An obstacle course took teams through parallel bars, shooting baskets, kicking a soccer ball through a cone path, and finally the pyramid. After the dust settled, the senior team of Rae Ann Larkin, Denise Cimmer, Mark Rooks, Mitch Cline, Darryl Shore and Brian Sleight admitted victory and gorged their free sundaes at the ice cream social after the bonfire.

Harvest couples 'promenade'n do-si-do'

Swing your partner round and round,
Promenade her up and down . . .

Commands by traditional caller Kappie Kappenman led 175 couples down the gym floor as they promenaded and do-si-doed . . . the Virginia Reel, Oh Johnny Oh, Heel and Toe. The hot, crowded gym created long refreshment lines between dances.

It was Tyee's most popular dance, Harvest, sponsored by TASC on Oct. 25. The girls had to scheme and ask that guy. Talk about different . . . each person had to wear socks with their overalls and jeans. The photographer was extra busy during breaks.

Corn stalks, scarecrow, bales of hay, pumpkins. Did you get pulled out on the floor to demonstrate? After the long, fun, crazy evening, most feasted on pizza and spaghetti, then collapsed.

Football poles victories in sun, mud, rain

Remember the White River Game? Rain and mud . . . mud and rain . . . But we ended the season with a win!

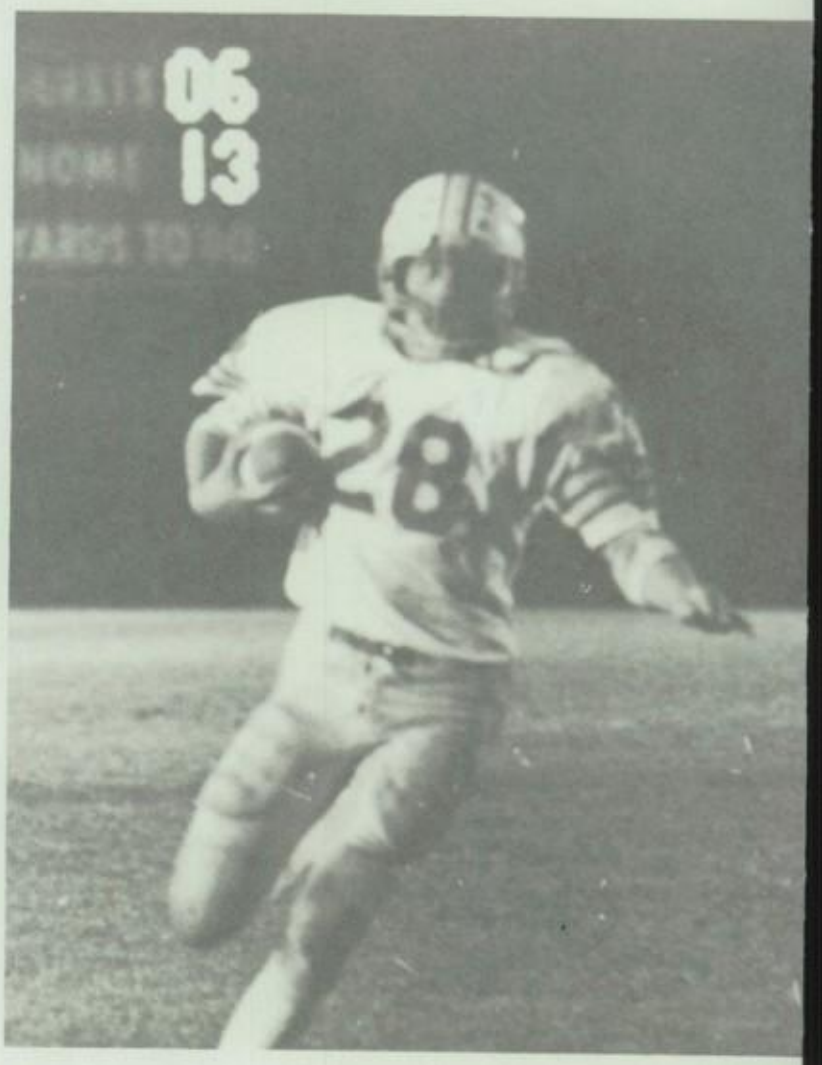
All the 66 players under head coach Warren Levenhagen were pumped and psyched at every game and ended the season with a 4-5 record. In the minds of all were the words "touchdown" and "playoffs" . . . touchdown . . . touchdown . . . Practices were hectic as players lived football . . . bull in a ring, dummy dropper, West Point, swivel hips, the dreaded course.

Remember when the seniors held their annual initiation for new teammates during practice by throwing all the sophomores and freshmen into mud puddles? This year there were freshmen, coached by Bob Trask.

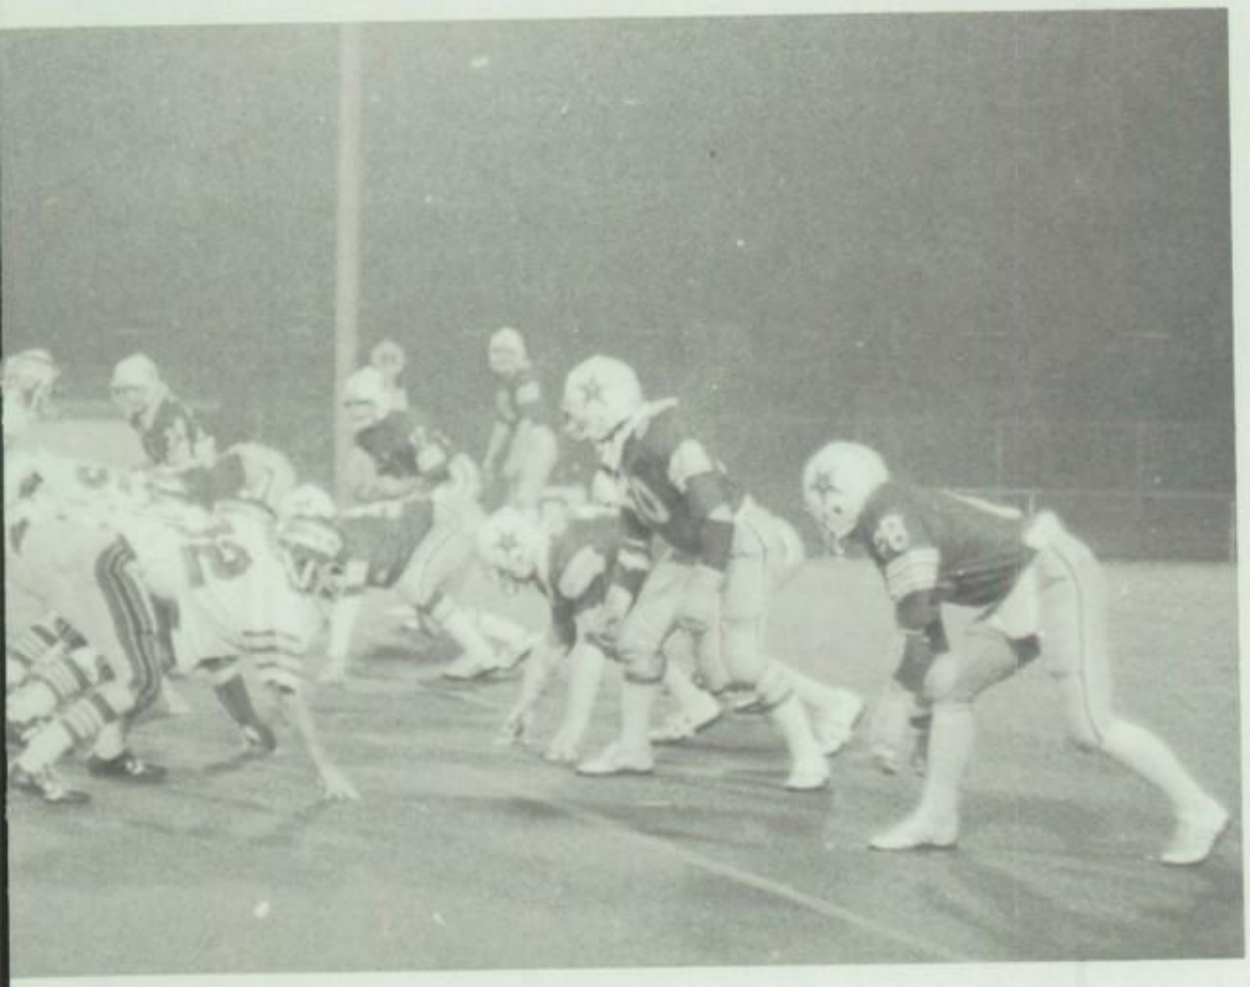
New school records — Dave Warf intercepted seven passes, Rob Watson's sticky fingers recovered six fumbles, and team co-captain Brian Sleight got up there to block four punts. Other honors went to most inspirational and co-captain Craig Byquist and most improved Mark Taylor. Lots and lots of help from coaches — Dave Mattson and Larry Forthun for the JV; Joe Cail, Don Maio, Wayne Coleman and Steve Scott helped, too.

Gridders run . . .

BELOW: Managers Jodi Sanford, Amy Conrad, Sherlene Nereim and Marcie Sewell are four of the ten girls who helped the team and ran clean footballs onto the field. BOTTOM: Quarterback Chris Seiler, who scored 18 points during the season, follows his blockers and sprints outside looking for the first down. BOTTOM RIGHT: A referee raises the golden signal as the Totes score another of their 92 points of the season. Only 85 points were scored against the defense.



and catch . . . and carry . . . and touchdown



TOP CENTER: Fullback Kurt Wurdeman (17) blocks for brother Kent (28) as Tyee's "dynamic duo" work together to make another Totem touchdown. Kent made an average of 6.7 yards per carry for a total of 860 during the season. ABOVE: JV quarterback Pat Padero (14) carries the ball while Howard Foote (55), Don Longmore (25), Jeff Stefanick (53) and Pat Flynn (32) block all but three defenders. LEFT: Totem defensive line, from right: Craig Byquist, Brian Sleight, Jeff Stefanick, Rob Watson, Kurt Wurdeman, Tod Francisco, Bob Carte, and in the cornerback position Chris Seiler.

Smashers volley to play offs, best record

Serve, volley, set, spike . . . point and win!

And that is what the 20 girls did, ending with a 7 win, 3 loss record.

Most improved Barb Weisser spiked the ball for the winning points. The Jamison sisters each received the most inspirational award, Myrna for the varsity team and Brenda for the JV team.

Serve, volley, set, spike . . . point and win . . . the motto for next year's captain Marlene Hall who sacrificed her body for the ball.

Under the guidance of Coaches Lietuvietis and Scott, the girls achieved their best record yet, and went on to the playoffs.

Everyone felt they had had a fine season. "They worked together well as a team . . . a really good job," Miss L. said.

Serve, volley, set, spike . . . and win. "We had a good year!"

Industrious beavers are proud to be Class of '84

The beaver . . . he who works industriously . . . he who builds his future.

One hundred ninety in the Freshmen Class felt a new atmosphere . . . a new excitement . . . a new feeling. The date . . . September 5. The significance . . . the first day of high school.

Counselor Mrs. Long and president Denise Berge helped the Class of '84 to be situated comfortably in this new environment. Even though most felt lost . . . bewildered . . . curious . . . it was simply an exciting year. They still remember that time when the side of their Homecoming parade float fell off . . . completely fell off. The frosh provided spirit . . . a unity of spirit through all Tyee activities.

The freshmen had bake sales to raise money and looked to the future . . . to a car wash . . . to recycling cans . . . but especially to becoming big sophomores next year.

The beaver . . . he who works industriously . . . he who builds his future.

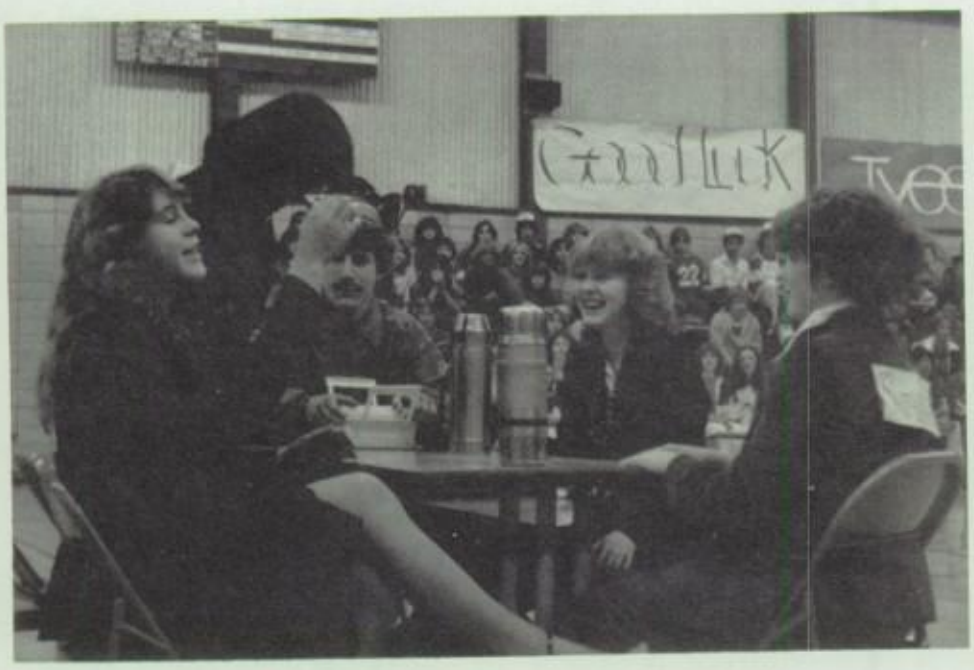
Our varying impressions relate to campus life

A prime example of "You are what you eat."

Looks as though they're stumped again.



Is this faculty life?

Just pretend you didn't see that one.

That's two points for the donkey, but how about Craig?

AST plans, works on plans, implements plans

AST . . . Associated Students of Tyee . . .

President Bonnie Tolentino and vice president Craig Martinson worked for the success of Tyee. Because of the ideas of 70 in Representative Assembly, much was accomplished.

There was the Japanese exchange . . . for the purpose of learning about each other's cultures; Potlatch and arm wrestling . . . for the purpose of uniting each of the classes; the canned food drive and Toys for Tots . . . for the purpose of helping those who are less fortunate; leadership camp at Waskowitz . . . for the purpose of bringing schools together; the giftwrap booth . . . for the purpose of raising money; the Spring Fling . . . just for fun.

Interhigh Councils enjoyed Totem participation . . . Highline District and Seamount league.

Adviser Miss Hall supported the decisions of the leaders, the revisions of the constitution . . . and even the word of the week: awesome . . . oomph . . . quaint . . .

Everyone was confident; everyone was committed; everyone was a part of

RIGHT: Steve Dunham dons a Jimmy Carter mask and offers us some peanuts for trick-or-treat when AST encouraged all to wear costumes on Halloween. BELOW: Junior Dan Stevens waits until Tracy Dejka breaks her balloon so he can start blowing up his during the class competition in September. BOTTOM: The AST Executive Council discusses plans for the canned food drive. March 1 . . . 2 . . . 3 . . . 4!

Seventeen enthusiastic drill team members marched and performed with vitality during competitions, games. Each felt there was a lot of hard work, each felt it was challenging, each felt it was competitive . . . and each felt a certain pride in a good performance.

Advisers Mr. Rants and Barbara Hellickson drilled these energetic girls for competition . . . Dec. 13 at Federal Way High School . . . second place out of seven schools. Each individual's lining up and moving together for accuracy was the goal in all performances.

All felt the excitement at the sock hop and bake sales and the bear of the tunes of "Featherbed", and a melody from "Chorus Line" as they performed. Precision was the key. Even with all of the spirit they gave to the Tote victories, they still drill and . . . March 1 . . . 2 . . . 3 . . . 4!

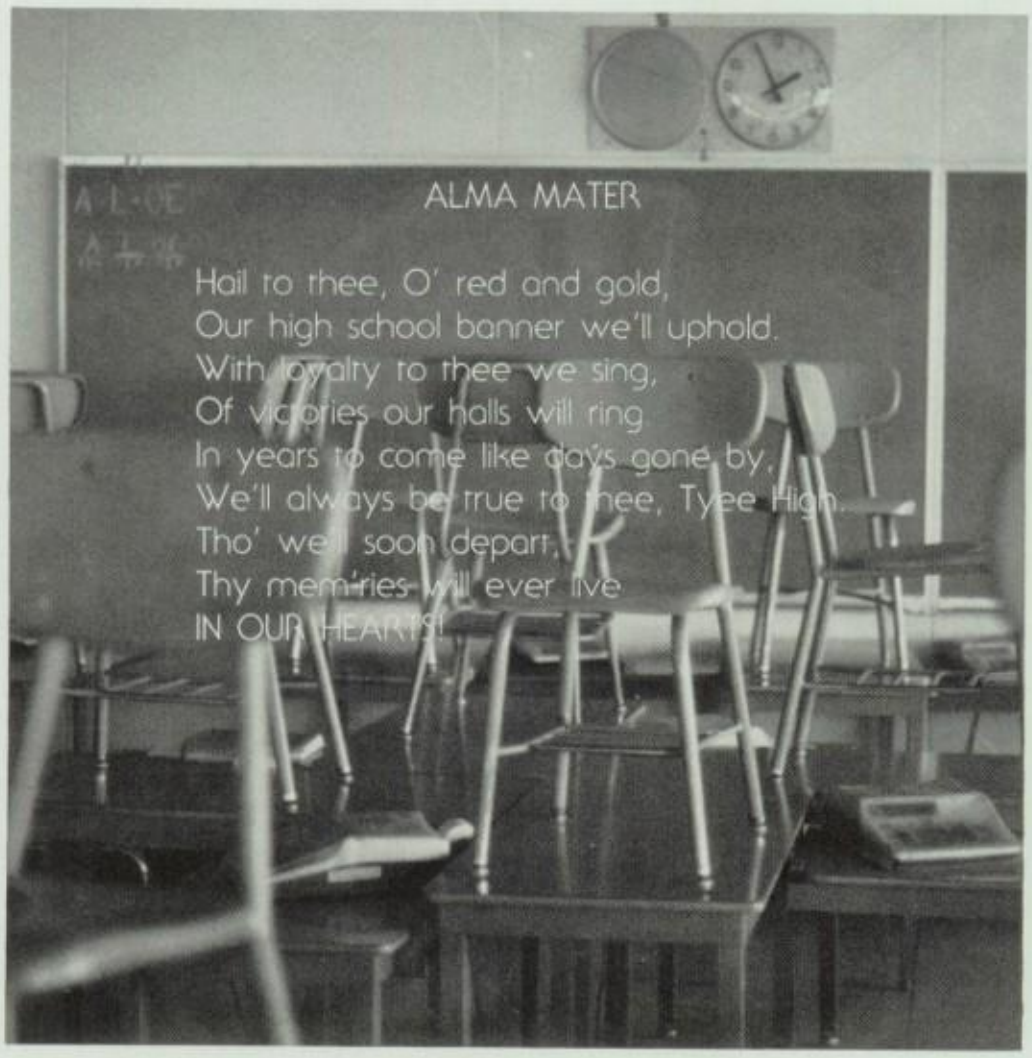
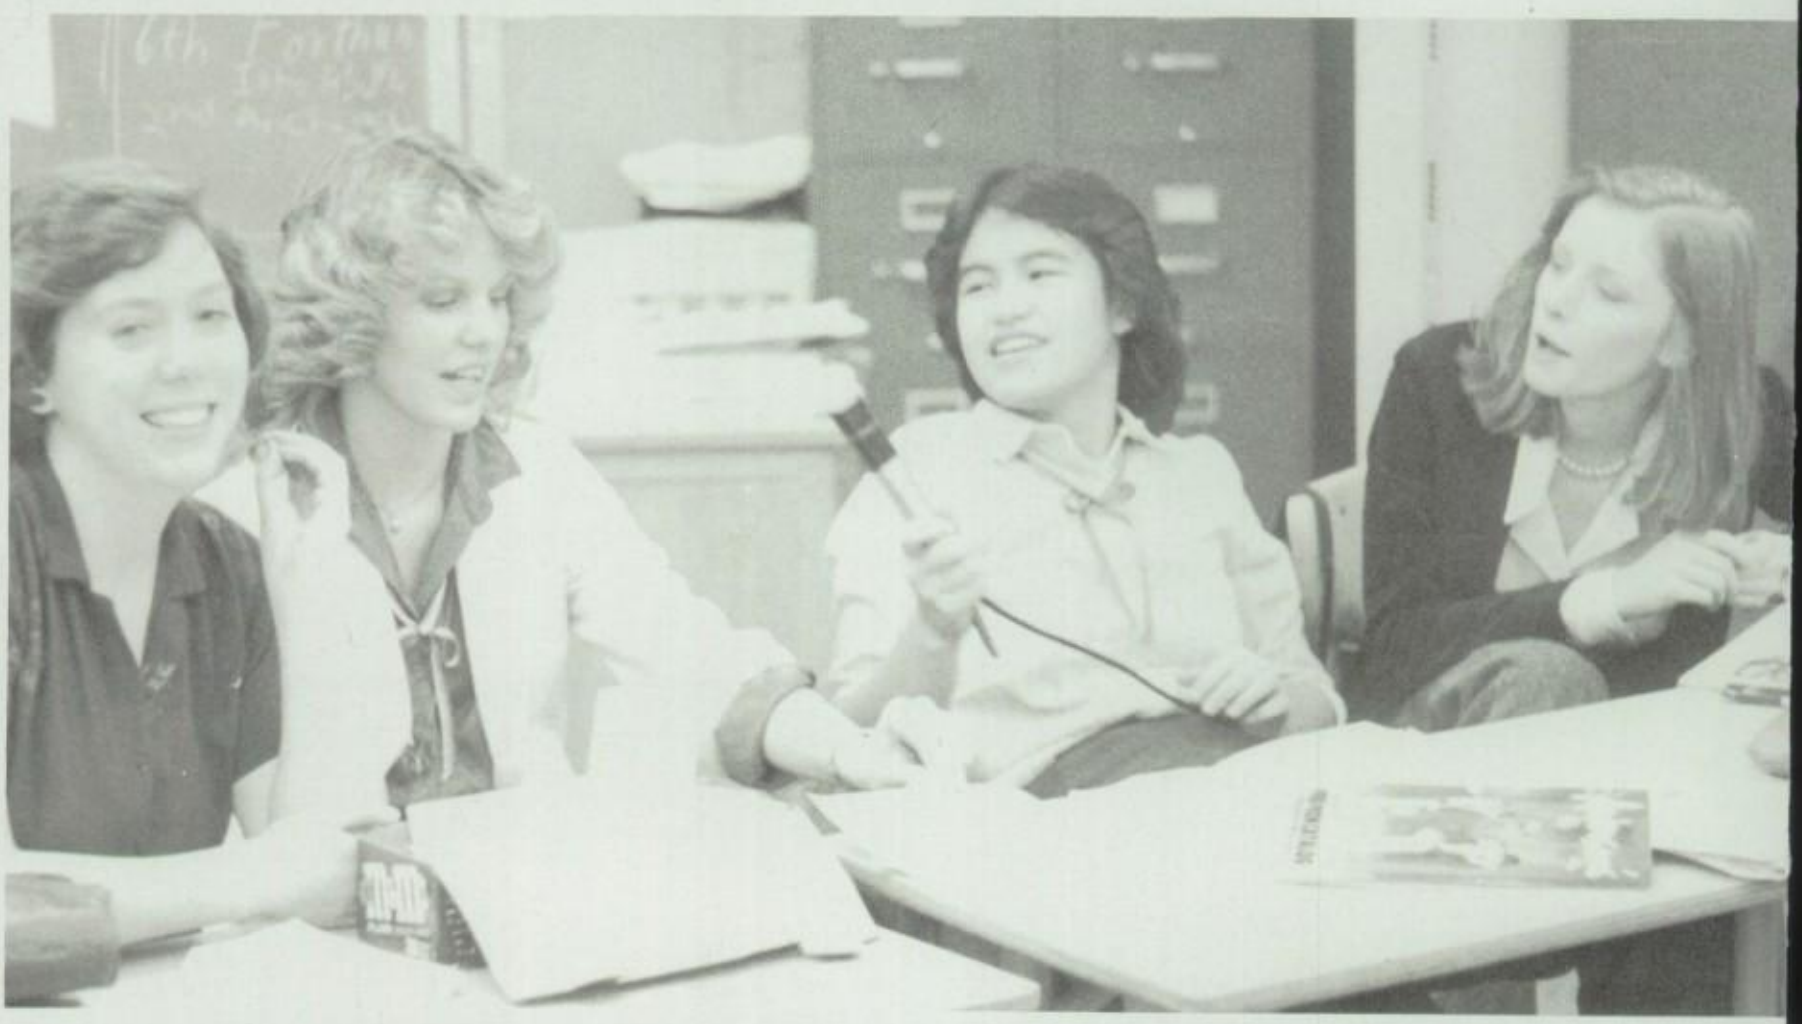
Hail to thee, O' red and gold; proud Totems



ALMA MATER
Hail to thee, O' red and gold,
Our high school banner we'll uphold.
With loyalty to thee we sing,
Of victories our halls will ring
In years to come like days gone by,
We'll always be true to thee, Tyee High.
Tho' we'll soon depart,
Thy memories will ever live
IN OUR HEARTS!



TOP MIDDLE LEFT: Mrs. Sue Williams, who coaches volleyball, basketball and track, gives tips to freshmen basketball players Denise Berge and Teresa Herman. BOTTOM LEFT: Taking a break from helping with rescheduling, seniors Joanne Davisson and Teri Maddrell watch Bonnie Tolentino and Kim Hinman show they still have spirit after a long day. RIGHT: Mrs. Davila's room every Thursday is the place to be for promoting school spirit. BELOW: The Rep Club officers are all decked out for a wild and wacky Halloween party in honor of the fall sports teams: from left, Lori Mercer, secretary; Debbie Palmer, vice-president; Karen Canary, treasurer; Lisa Miller, president; and Mrs. Davila, adviser. FAR RIGHT: Kris Canary awards Larry Erostad the traditional Tyee 'T' with the saltwater taffy stapled to it for his athletic efforts in golf and basketball.

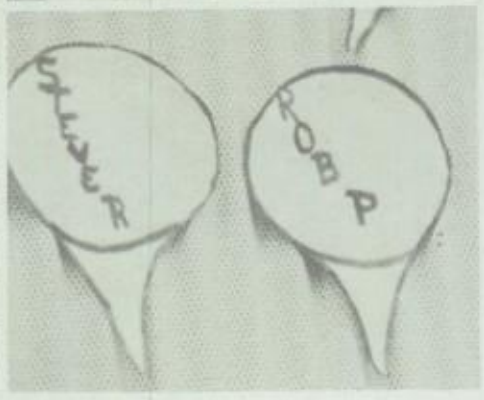
Hot "pep"pers' creative posters provide vitality



Rah, Torems, Rah! I'm a pepper, you're a pepper ...

Fifty "hot peppers" and adviser Mrs. Davila were the supporters of the Torems. Pep Club, one of the biggest in the history of Tyee ... yes, the biggest provided spirit, support, cheers and creativeness with poster parties and sport banquets.

President Lisa Miller gave time ... a lot of time ... toward the enthusiastic club and is preparing to rally and see just who deserves the "Pepper Award". All the girls looked forward to enjoying a party at Mrs. Davila's Cabana at the end of the year. Go, Torems, Go!

UPPER LEFT: The varied activities of Pep Club included numerous poster parties where everyone would munch out, draw, and cut at the same time. Not only were they fun, but they helped boost team morale. FAR LEFT: Pep Club: front, from left: Amy Conrad, Sharon McCall, Bev Brennan, Jackie Mah, president Lisa Miller, vice-president Debbie Palmer, Naomi Clyde, Patricia Arnold, Delana Akers; second row: Sue Christodoulou, Linda White, Bonnie Tolentino, Sandy Wisdorf, April Miller, Kris Canary, Kim Wilson, Misty Kauai, Andrea Johnson, Annette Brodigan, adviser Angela Davila; back row: Kelly Brooks, Cheryl Sousa, Sondra Greenswieght, Trisha Brodigan, Jaycee Meredith, treasurer Karen Canary, Marcie Sewell, Maria Runnels, Kim Hinman, Leanne Boere. LEFT: Pep Club president Lisa Miller leads the 60 Totem supporters in a typical weekly meeting.

Cheerstaff promotes spirit, enthusiastic zeal

"We are feeling enthusiastic, we are feeling GO-OD!?" Give me a "T"!, "T"! Give me a "Y"!, "Y"! Give me an "E"!, "E"! Give me another "E"!, "E"! What's that spell? . . . TYEE!

Twelve cheerleaders "rahed" the Totems on toward victory. This year's squad was elected by season . . . fall, winter. Adviser Miss Rankin kept them feeling enthusiastic toward each game, each practice, each assembly.

"Pawnee", a traditional dance routine, and "Tequila", a "moving" routine, are always enjoyed by all, but there is also frustration in cheer, performing, planning. When all is accomplished . . . "They are feeling enthusiastic, they are feeling GO-OD!"

The theme . . . Tonight is forever, while tomorrow is still a dream . . . the date . . . Friday, Dec. 19.

Senior princesses Debbie Loomis and Rondi Lusk, junior princess Lori Forbes, sophomore princess Marianne Sumpter and Freshman princess Karri Anderson walked toward the podium . . . toward the big moment . . . to find out that the 16th Homecoming Queen was Leanne Boere. Following the coronation was a skit performed by the seniors, and the theme song, "Do You Know Where You're Going To?" sung by Sound Design. To add to the excitement of the day was the victory of the Homecoming basketball game against North Kitsap. The score, 95-77. During halftime a parade of floats, won by the class of '82 and a drill team performance sparked the night. Saturday, from 8:30-11:30 was the big dance . . . the Homecoming dance. The band . . . Livewire.

Homecoming '80 honored the Classes of '71 and '80 with alumni princess Heidi Jacobson. This year, the flower, a red rose . . . the colors, burgundy and cream . . . and the idea which will never leave our minds . . . Tonight is forever, while tomorrow is still a dream . . .

And there she is . . . Totem's 16th queen

Dribblers end season with 18-2 record;

"Celebrate good times — come on!"
Dribble, Dribble down the floor;
make that basket, raise a score . . .

Varsity coach Mr. Ancheta, JV coach Mr. Muscutt, and freshman coaches Mr. Trask and Mr. Erdahl led the Tyee dribblers to a successful season. The varsity team was rated fifth in state AA and was undefeated in the Seamount League. The JV ended the season with a 15-3 record; the frosh with 9-0.

Varsity captain Jeff Crosby and JV captain Larry Frostad felt there was a lot of work . . . a lot of hard and tiring work to be that winning team. The active and enthusiastic varsity players will always remember those dates . . . those special dates . . . of going to Sequim . . . of wining the Mr. Si game 58-56 in the bitter seconds of the game . . . of the state playoffs and the words "Celebrate good times — Come on!"

Charlie Marquard had an average of 20.6 points per game . . . some were slam-dunks . . . and an average 10.6 rebounds. Jeff Crosby set a new school record with 121 assists.

Splashers set out to sink their swim opponents

"Sink the competitors!" . . . "Splash toward victory!"

Coach Kathy Ingalsbe and 17 swimmers had a tiring and vigorous swim year. They did their best and the Tore swimmers had close scores. Some of the splish-splashers still participated in the meet . . . the District Meet at Curtis . . . Feb. 10-11. Swim practices were from 3:00-4:30 . . . every Monday through Friday . . . at the Foster Pool with a vigorous 160 lengths or 4,000 yards ahead of them each day. Most outstanding swimmers Leland Scifers and Myron Blazer . . . most inspirational Phil Lemoine . . . and most improved Ken Briscoe; Gabe Hall was awarded the 100% attendance award.

Jazzy mixture, energetic spirit give nice sound

"Let's hear THE best sound of music."

Thirty-three singers and director Mr. Rants performed with jazzy tunes that had a combination of energy and enthusiam in them. The unique and expressive talents competed Feb. 25 at the Mt. Rainier District Jazz Festival . . . April 25 at Green River . . . and May 15 at Mt. Hood. Group and individual awards were given.

These singers took music . . . any kind of music and could do just about anything with it. Each individual moved . . . continually moved to feel just the right beat of the music. The hard work and the bopping of the "vereran" members left all of the new members . . . the rookies . . . from the second semester to sing a scat solo . . . like an initiation. No matter what . . . we still hear THE best sound of music.

Aides, librarians, 'DJ's' provide info day after day

Office, Library, Strive for Pride
Work, work, work, work, . . . WORK

Twenty librarians, three announcers for Strive for Pride, and 32 office workers provided an abundance of information for the function of Tyee this year. Librarian Mrs. Crounse provided assistance for students when the library opened in December with the "temporary" furniture . . . the miniature desks and chairs. All of the "permanent" furniture was finally situated in January. Librarinas helped to find research for many subjects and topics ranging from the population of Mozambique to how many hot dogs are sold at a Sonics game.

Secretary adviser Mrs. Talbot and the secretaries in both the attendance and general offices did much service the Totems. They answered phones . . . delivered messages . . . filed papers . . . filled out slips . . . sorted mail . . . ran machines . . . Their work seemed endless, but they accomplished everything.

Announcers of Strive for Pride assisted in providing information to the student body . . . times of games . . . times and places of club meetings . . . the supercalafragilisticexpialidocious word of the week . . . They gave the news of the day at 8:00 every morning and 1:35 every afternoon.

LEFT: Craig Byquist was a finalist for the Scholar-Athlete of King County, sponsored by the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame. The banquet was held at the Washington Plaza Hotel. BELOW: The only gymnasts at Tyee this year were junior Beth Szyperski and freshman Carol White, respectively. Carol participated for Highline High School in floor exercise and on the beam. Beth participated at Mt. Rainier High School where she competed in floor exercise with her best score of 6.3, and on the beam with her best score of 5.9. Beth went independently to the sub-regionals. BELOW LEFT: Hugh LaBossier has traveled all over the United States and England competing in squash tournaments. This year he took 5th at the U.S. Nationals held at Yale University, and is now ranked 4th in the UnitedStates and 15th in the world. he has been active in squash for the past five years.

Wrestlers end up on 'top'; first in league

Roll them over; lay them flat;
pin their shoulders to the mat.

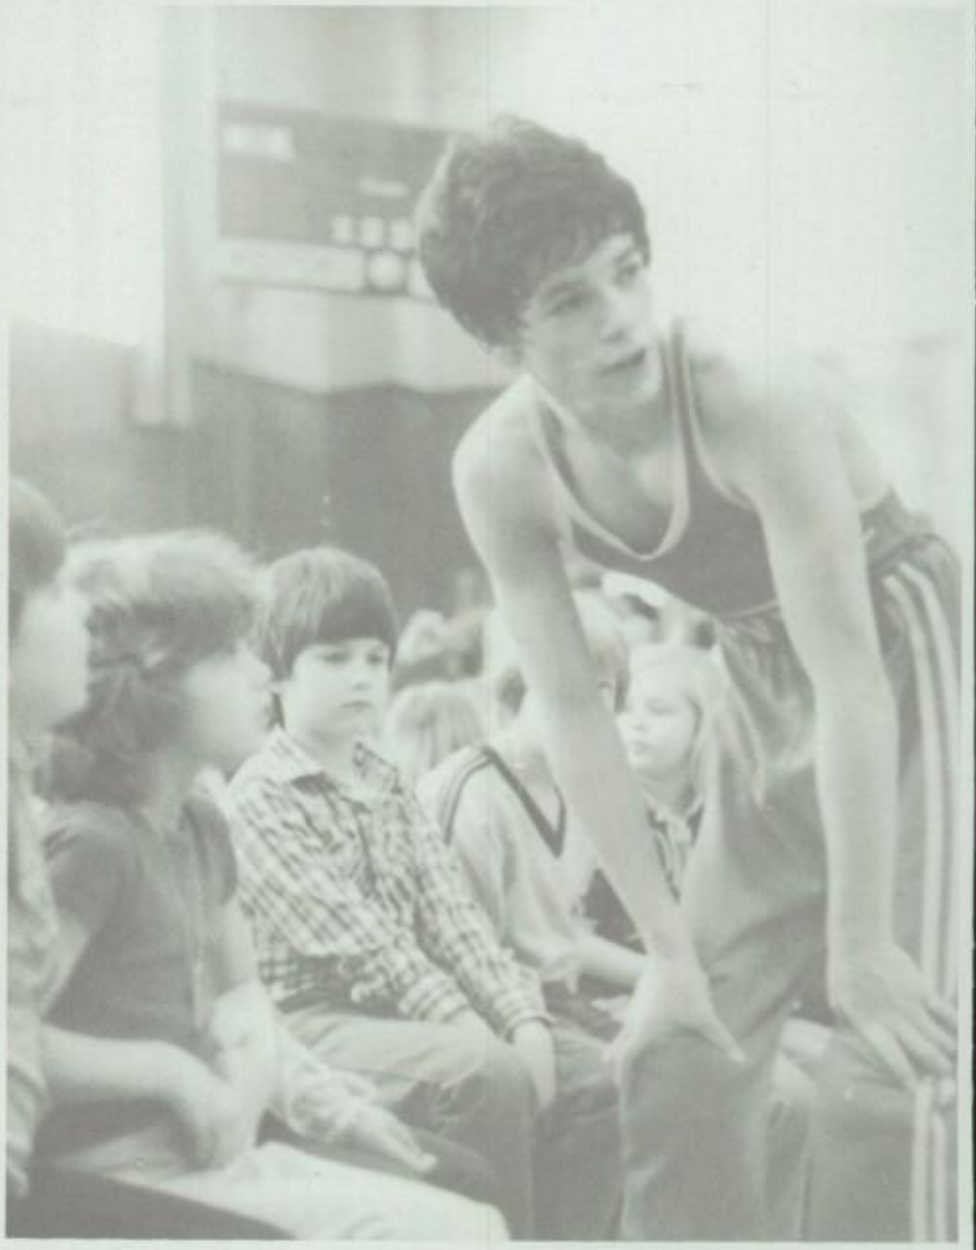
Thirty-eight disciplined wrestlers showed those competitors who was on "top", literally. Wrestling was demanding . . . full of sacrifices . . . full of determination . . . The matmen ended with a 5-0 record in the league and a 14-3 record for the season.

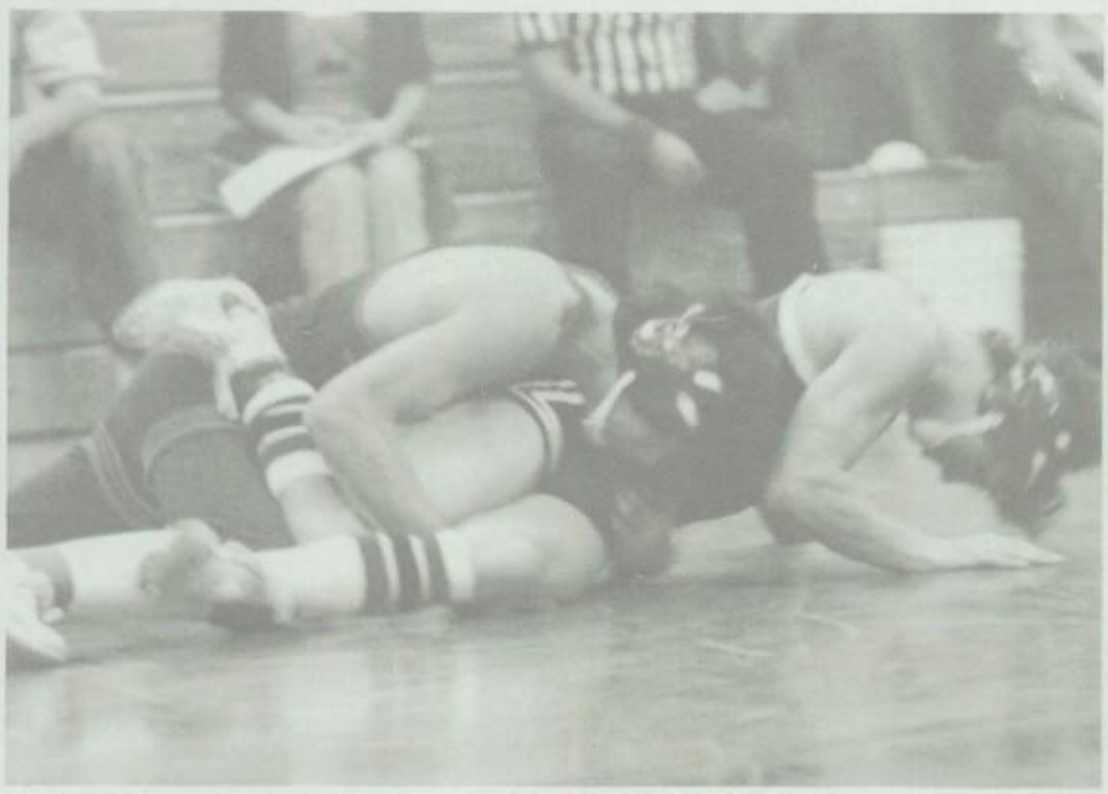
Coach Mattson and assistant coach Hill of the varsity, JV coach Maio and frosh coach Cail supported the wrestlers . . . taught the wrestlers . . . disciplined the wrestlers, both mentally and physically.

After each march, a name was placed on the Top Totem Wrestling Board to display THE most outstanding player of the match. Overall Top Totem was Bruce Smith. Most inspirational was Mitch Bowman. Jamie Straus was most improved, and Brian Sleight was elected team captain for '80-'81.

At the Lake Stevens tournament, Tyee placed first overall. All went to the sub-regionals at Enumclaw . . . seven made it to the regionals at Franklin Pierce . . . and three matmen went to the State tournament in Cheney — Jim Compton, Bruce Smith and Brian Sleight.

Roll them over; lay them flat;
pin their shoulders to the mat.





FAR LEFT: Senior Jim Compton takes time out to explain about wrestling and "taking your opponent to his back" to some Bow Lakers: he proved to be successful at this by earning 26 near falls, the most for this season. ABOVE LEFT: Coaches Dave Mattson and Dan Hill never let their emotions get the best of them, but beating the Mt. Si Wildcats 38-18, proved to be emotional and exciting for both the team and the crowd that filled the gym. BELOW LEFT: Turn'em over and roll'em over, senior Doug Kirkland made this a habit, as he broke the season record for most reversals, 33.

Class of '82; Wolves climb; just one more step

The wolf . . . he who bestows happy spirits . . . he who presents self-respect.

The Junior Class of 210 felt the thought of "just one more year to go." Being second on the Totem pole wasn't all that bad . . . they weren't on the very bottom where they would have to try to adjust to a new atmosphere and not on the very top either where they had to prepare for a new atmosphere.

Counselor Mrs. Long and president Leland Scifers led the juniors through a successful year. The Class of '82 put on the Prom for the seniors . . . worked at the gift-wrap booth and sold red-and-gold hats and scarfs, collecting a little over $700 . . . decorated the gym hall for Christmas and the Homecoming float creatively, winning first place in the parade of floats.

With just one more year to go . . . the thought of being on top of the Totem pole . . . having the advantages of the seniors the bleachers, the chairs . . . the wolves look forward to next year . . . the year of 1982 . . . the graduating year.

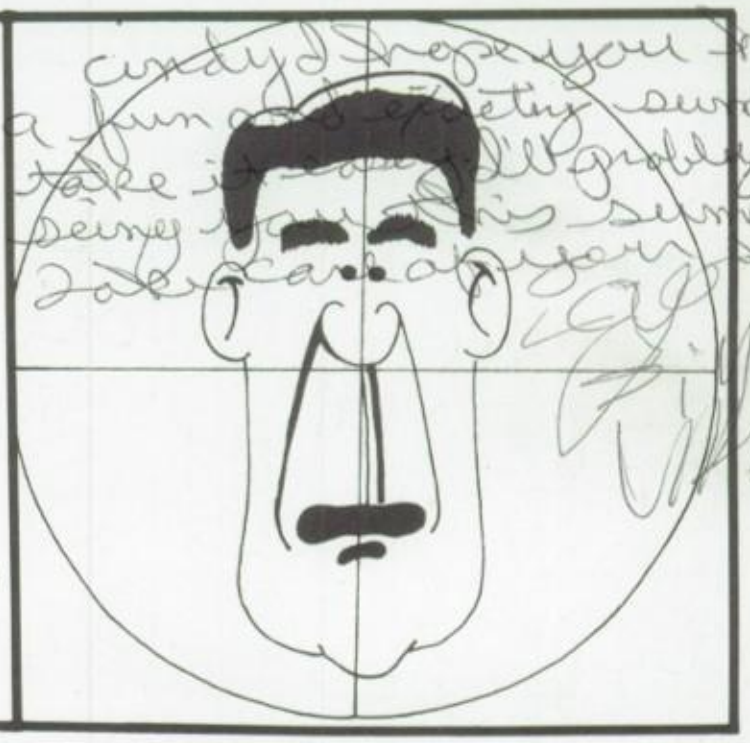
Cindy: It was great, have me picked and Pete, but it was better how we were fighting the E.R.A in history. English was very boring with well you know who, but we managed to get through. What kind thoughts always



Cindy,

Well I'll write on the spring cause thats about the time we started hanging around together again. Im really glad we did too! Well I hope we do alot together this summer. I really have fun when we go out together. To bad yosh and John didn't work out. But David is just as good but I get pissed when he does

Spring

Spring all that shit like leaving you at L3C. Take care and I'll see ya all the time. I dont have to give you my # cause you already know it. Friends always, Lori "83"

Enthusiasm, effort, time, leadership . . .
Eighteen seniors and two juniors were elected Students of the Month by TASC members. The qualifications . . . providing service for the interests of Tyee High, giving precious time and effort, enthusiasm and zeal, work and leadership.
The steps to be elected . . . nominations during a regular TASC meeting, a week to figure who deserves the most recognition, and explanation of each person's service and the teachers' vote. All twenty felt honored . . . TASC presented each with a special token of honor and appreciation: corsages for the girls and boutonnieres for the guys. The Signal took a picture of the two Students of the Month and allowed the student body to read the accomplishments of the selected students.
Enthusiasm, effort, time, leadership . . .

"These are the best of times"
Prom . . . the dance that honored the seniors. The flowers . . . roses. The colors . . . burgundy and rose. The date . . . May 2, from 8-11. The place . . . Green River Community College.

Senior princesses Kim Hinman and Kim Johnston were excited to find that Marilyn Manfield was crowned Prom queen. Couples joined in after the royalty and their escorts led a dance to the song . . . the theme song, "Best of Times," was played by the band Hard Times.

In preparing for the dance, the Class of '82 planned the band, the music, the place, promotion, the food, the decorations, the favors, the tickets. Reservations at favorite restaurants were made by the couples and so many wore formal attire. The refreshments . . . cake and punch . . . were served throughout the dance. Although the evening was filled with enjoyment and excitement, there was a feeling . . . a feeling of emptiness while the seniors danced at their last high school dance . . . contemplating the theme . . .

Como esta usted? Wie geht es Ihnen?
Eleven participants in Spanish Camp and seven in German Camp were involved in a learning experience of living in the natural cultures of South America and Germany. Students spoke the language they learned at school – Spanish or German. Each was required to speak the "native" language for everything. In preparation for camp, all worked on skits to present to the other foreign language participants. Eight Deutsch-speaking people enjoyed the German dancing and skits. The date . . . March 6-7. The fun of meeting other "natives" and the learning of the culture made the trip quite an experience.

Ten Espanol-speaking people appreciated learning the ways of the Spanish . . . the educational experience . . . and the variety of people. The date . . . May 1-2. The only rule was to speak the Spanish language throughout the cultural experience. If not . . . a Spanish tongue twister.

Actors dramatize finale of year with 'Sabrina Fair'

Memorizing, blocking, entrance, and exits
Thirteen eager Thespians worked enthusiastically for the big night . . . the opening of "Sabrina Fair," a Satirical play . . . a romantic play . . . involving social tensions of post-World War II years. The place . . . a Long Island estate. The plot . . . the eldest son falls in love with the chaffeur's daughter. Director Mrs. Henderson led the actors and actresses with zeal . . . through hours to perfect the play. The time-consuming rehearsals . . . the appreciation of knowing all of the lines . . . the frustration of organizing props . . . and the worthwhile effort led the troupe of actors and actresses to . . .

Facing Graduation

Faces of old and faces of new,
People we know and people we knew
Growing together, then drifting apart
Always an ending and now a new start.

At graduation we all grow nearer,
And all of our friends seem so much dearer,
And as we say our final goodbye,
One last embrace and one more cry.

A "keep in touch" and a "promise I will,"
A "remember when. . . " but better still

A place in my heart you'll always stay
This is what's said as we go our own way.

—Laura Rollins

Thunderbirds dwell above; seniors are powerful

The thunderbird . . . he who dwells above . . . he who is most powerful.

Two hundred seventeen seniors felt bigger and better than anyone around. Taking over the senior bleachers in the gym . . . finally seeing all of the assemblies from the front was the feeling of priority . . . initiating freshmen and sophomores. In reality, they were the top . . . the head of the Totem pole.

Counselor Mr. Aliment and president Linda Lawson led the Class of '81 toward a busy and exciting last year in high school. The Senior Advisory Council put on Homecoming. At the end of the year was the Senior Class Luncheon . . . the class gift . . . the Class Day where seniors were honored and reminisce about by walking through the gym and walking out those doors for the final time . . . graduation . . . a time to remember.

Their yesterday is ending while their tomorrow is just beginning. Each had to prepare for tomorrow for they arrived here once, alone . . . and began their adventure together . . . slowly . . . carefully. They ended their high school years with special feelings . . . special thoughts . . . thoughts and feelings which cannot be defined by words.

The thunderbird . . . he who dwells above . . . he who is most powerful.

Talents are 'special'ized

CLOCKWISE from top: Bruce Smith, one of Tyee's wrestlers to go to grade schools and demonstrate techniques to students, seems to have turned basketball coach's son, Kyle Ancheta, 7, into a wrestler. Senior Jeff Crosby shows off one of his many talents—eating! Sophomore Scott Anderson takes a few minutes out from the band marathon on Feb. 21-22 to sleep in his cozy little bean bag chair. At the band marathon to raise money to buy new uniforms, Scott Seiber sleepily plays on and on and on . . . Shown at Tolo, two honored musicians take a break. Tim Ishii, most outstanding soloist at the North Kitsap competition, and Sabrina Saul both went to the annual state solo competition.

I tell ya, these headlines are a pain in . . . oops!

Hi! It's me again . . . the copy coordinator. This page is called the staff page, and this is where you get up close and personal with us . . . all of us . . . editors, coordinators, managers, page editors, photographers. Well, here goes . . .

"When can we leave this cell? . . . It's more like solitary confinement! . . . Remember to 'fourple space' . . . Where is the techni-thingy? . . . Where's Ms. Rudy's pencils? . . . Is there life after deadlines? . . . Where did all the pica measures go? . . . This is really a P.E. class! . . . Why did the chocolate chips sink to the bottom? . . . Did you sell more ads? . . . It's Friday night and I want to go to the game! . . . I hate graphics! . . . Where are my pictures? . . . Type it over! . . . Go tell Ms. Rudy! . . . I don't want to come in on Saturday! . . . But they're all lined up! . . . Order your pictures! . . . But Ms. Rudy!!

You see, It's really not that bad a class. Seriously, we love our close relationship and we love to work with each other. Until the next deadline . . .

Remember

always

the friends

that we've made,

Remember

the things that will never fade

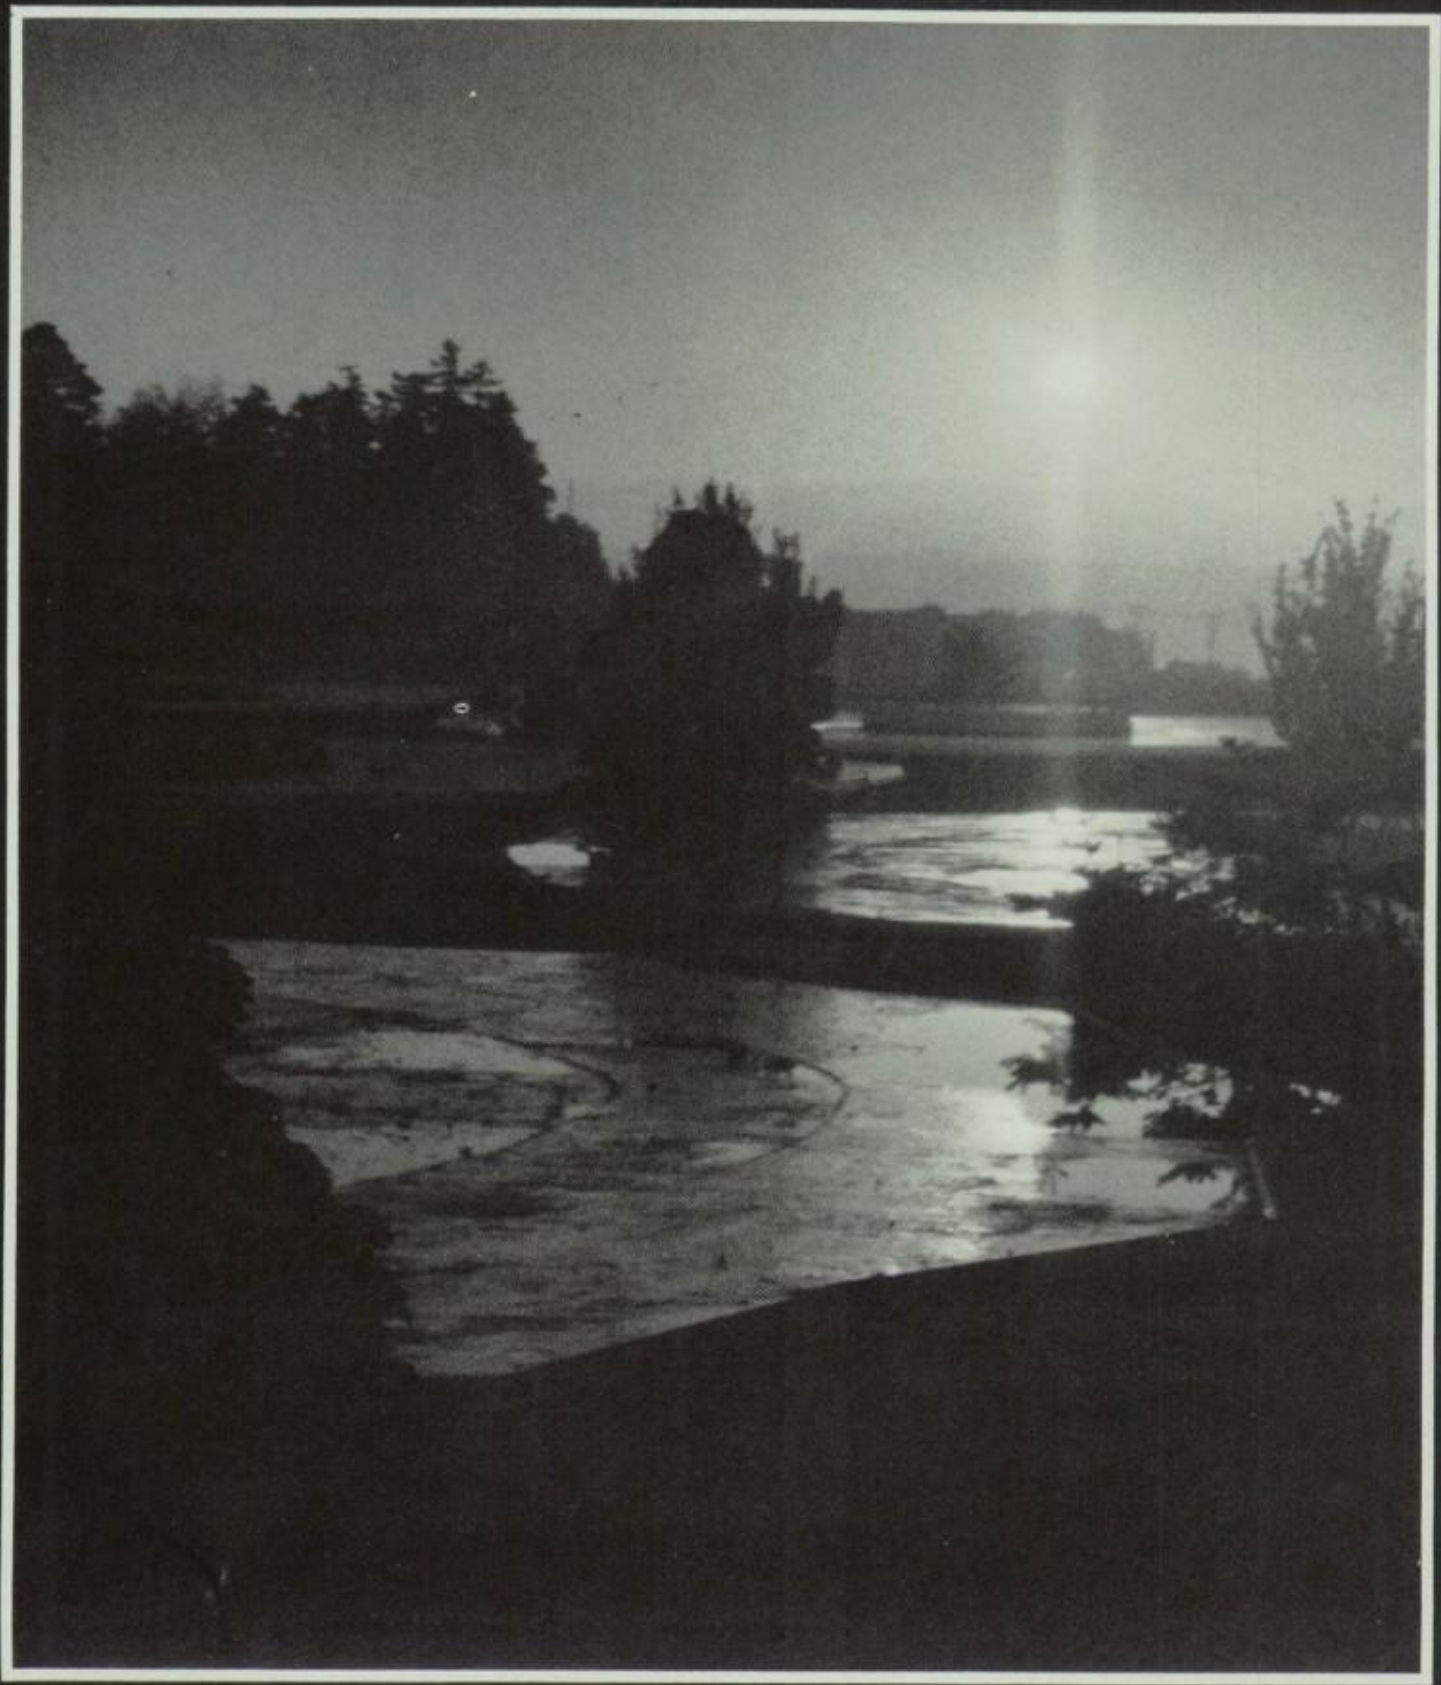
Remember always . . . live life at its best,

and you will

easily pass

life's tests



Remember the seasons that have gone by,

Remember our dreams that will never die.

Dear Cindy. 6/15/81

Its been great Knowing you. Let was great in choir with our Brownbunns. May the future hold you many rewards and pleasures good luck with the many wonders and with the special man. Becarful in Sob and school. Keep in touch - 244-5541 Lets gettogether during summer. Im at Angle Rt. Theres so much to say But little time. I think ya get my idea.

Take care & god Bless. Remember there always ups & downs.

Bye Bye til later

Love friends

Cindy,

Well we finally made it, can you believe it? Im glad we are still friends. Mayb this summer we can do more things together. No this summer we better do more things together. Im not going to write "have a great summer" because I know you will, but dont get to wasted OK. Well do it anyway. I hope things work out between you and David.

Love

friends always

Carla

Cindy,

This year went so fast. Im really glad I came to this School and met you for a friend. Well good luck with John Call me sometime and we can do something
